

Being a column in which the publisher just "blows off the steam."

By Willard Jones

THE FIRST MORNING after the honeymoon, the Hamlin young husband got up early went down to the kitchen and brought his wife her breakfast in bed. Naturally, she was delighted.

Then the husband spoke: "Have you noticed just what I have done?"

"Of course, dear; every single detail."

"Good. That's how I want my breakfast served every morning after this!"

A FARMER down near McCaulley brought in to us a clipping that expresses the feeling of a lot of folks nowadays. It is in the form of an open letter to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson:

Dear Mr. Secretary: My friend Bordeaux over in Terrebonne Parish received a $1,000 check from the government this year for not raising hogs. So I am going into the not-raising-hog business next year.

What I want to know is, in your opinion, what is the best kind of farm not to raise hogs on and the best kind of hogs not to raise?

I would prefer not to raise razorbacks, but if that is not a good breed not to raise, I will just as gladly not raise any Berkshires or Durocs.

The hardest work in this business is going to be in keeping an inventory of how many hogs I haven't raised.

My friend Bordeaux is very joyful about the future of this business. He has been raising hogs for more than 20 years and the best he ever made was $400 until this year, when he got $1,000 for not raising hogs.

If I can get $1,000 for not raising 50 hogs, then I will get $2,000 for not raising 100 hogs.

I plan to operate on a small scale at first, holding myself down to about 4,000 hogs, which means I will have $80,000.

Now, another thing: These hogs I will not raise will not eat 100,000 bushels of corn. I understand that you also pay farmers for not raising corn. So will you pay me anything for not raising 100,000 bushels of corn not to feed the hogs I am not raising?

I want to get started as soon as possible as this seems to be a good time of the year for not raising hogs.—Octave Broussard, Louisiana.

P. S.—Can I raise 10 or 12 hogs on the side while I am in the not-raising-hog business—just enough to get a few sides of bacon to eat?

A HAMLIN TEACHER the other day reminded us that her class has the philosopher type of a youngster.

"Who was the smartest inventor of all times and why?" the teacher asked her group.

"Edison," quickly replied one young lad. "He invented the phonograph and radio so people would stay up all night using his electric light bulbs."

POLIO MOTHER OF THE YEAR for the 1958 March of Dimes in Texas, Mrs. John L. Crouch (Kathy) of El Paso, joins daughter, Connie Ruth, 11, and son, Larkin, 13, in a family game. More interested in the photographer is the Cocker, Ginger. Mrs. Crouch, executive secretary of the El Paso County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and widow of a World War II fighter pilot, was named to symbolize in the 1958 March of Dimes the hundreds of Texas mothers who have overcome the crippling after effects of polio to resume active and useful lives.

Political Pot Begins To Stew in Region

The political pot in Jones County finally got to simmering this week after a more belated start than usual.

Three candidates announced for county offices this week, and another threw his hat in the ring for the state representative place in the 85th Representative District.

Two candidates had previously announced their candidacy for reelection in Fisher county.

Traditionally in Texas the week between Christmas and New Year signals the opening of the political season. Some candidates like to announce their intentions early, while others do not.

On the state level everything is pretty much a matter of conjecture at this time, with few if any definite commitments.

In this section, State Senator David W. Ratliff of Stamford and State Representative Moyne Kelly of Afton must stand for reelection. Senators serve four years, while representatives serve two — the same as most all other state officeholders.

County officials now serve four years, with some offices becoming vacant every two years. Offices up for election this year are district clerk, county clerk, county judge, county treasurer, county school superintendent, county surveyor, and commissioners of Precincts 2 and 4, as well as all justices of the peace.

In the city of Hamlin the terms of four councilmen—Gene Prewitt, B. O. Bell, Bill Seals and L. H. McBride—expire in April.

1957 Postal Receipts Decrease Below 1956

Although the Hamlin post office was a busy place most of the year in 1957, it was revealed this week by Postmaster Perry Sparks that the total volume of business was $1,588.91 less than for 1956.

Total receipts of the post office in 1957 were $29,819.32 compared with $31,408.23 for 1956. An all-time high in volume was established in 1955 when the total revenues amounted to $35,742.56, the postmaster said.

Cancellations last year were down some, Sparks said.

U. S. Senator Johnson Says Potential World Peace Within Grasp of Nations

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told his colleagues as Congress opened its session that "a potential for peace never before within man's reach" lies beyond the present peril faced by the United States, according to a release to The Herald from Washington.

Senator Johnson told the conference of Democratic senators that "the ground beneath us when we last met has been largely swept away." Since Congress adjourned last August, he said, "The human race has multiplied its capabilities to infinity."

"The exploitation of these capabilities by men of selfish purpose holds the awful threat of a world in subjugation," he warned. "The mastery of such capabilities by men wholly dedicated to freedom presents, instead, the prospect of a world at last liberated from tyranny, liberated in fact from the threat of war."

The Texas senator called for non-partisan, determined effort by members of Congress to make a beginning "on what must ultimately be done" to insure the unchallengeable strength of the nation.

"We must work," he declared, "as though no other Congress would ever have an opportunity to meet this challenge, for in fact, none will have an opportunity comparable."

"We must, furthermore, bring to this opportunity a freshness, an originality, a diligence far exceeding our previous standards, for many of the concepts and ideas and rules, which have applied to our actions in the past are no longer pertinent and applicable."

Primitive Baptists Set Services at Dovie

Primitive Baptists of the Hamlin territory will conduct services each third Sunday beginning January 19. The services will be held at the Dovie community church, five miles east of town on the Hamlin-Stamford highway.

Services will be conducted at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend, say Primitive Baptist leaders.

Hamlin Schools Begin Task of Enumerating Scholastics of Area

Hamlin Schools have begun the annual task of enumerating all children of the district, announces Superintendent of Schools C. F. Cook.

Each school district in the state of Texas is required to take census of all children between the ages of six years and 18 years as of September 1, 1958. The month of January is designated as the month that the census must be taken.

Six-year-old children who are not now going to school, but will be in the schools next year are the children most difficult to get enumerated for the school census, Cook points out. "It is necessary for the six-year-olds to be on the census rolls before they can attend school next year," he states.

Dick Gruben Hurt Last Saturday in Tractor Accident

Dick Gruben, 30-year-old farmer in the Royston community, west of Hamlin, was seriously injured Saturday afternoon about 4:00 o'clock when run over by his tractor. He was some improved first of the week but still remained in Callan Hospital at Rotan.

Gruben, unable to crawl, lay in a cotton field about 50 yards from his pick-up truck for about half a hour after being injured. A neighbor finally heard his cry for help.

Admitted to Callan Hospital at 5:00 p. m., Gruben was found to have a broken pelvis, according to initial x-rays. He was placed in traction, and other x-rays were taken Sunday.

Gruben had been stripping cotton on the farm of his brother, Troy Gruben. Behind his tractor was a stripping machine followed by a cotton trailer. He was standing in front of the back tractor wheel, and released the clutch on the stripper, the family said. The tractor, in gear, started up and the back wheel passed over his body. Gruben managed to roll out of the path of the trailer loaded with about two bales of cotton.

Lying about 75 yards from the road, he yelled for help when a neighbor, Foy Mitchell, drove by, but Mitchell could not hear above his car's engine. Mitchell arrived home, about half a mile away, and Gruben yelled again, Mitchell this time hearing the cry for help.

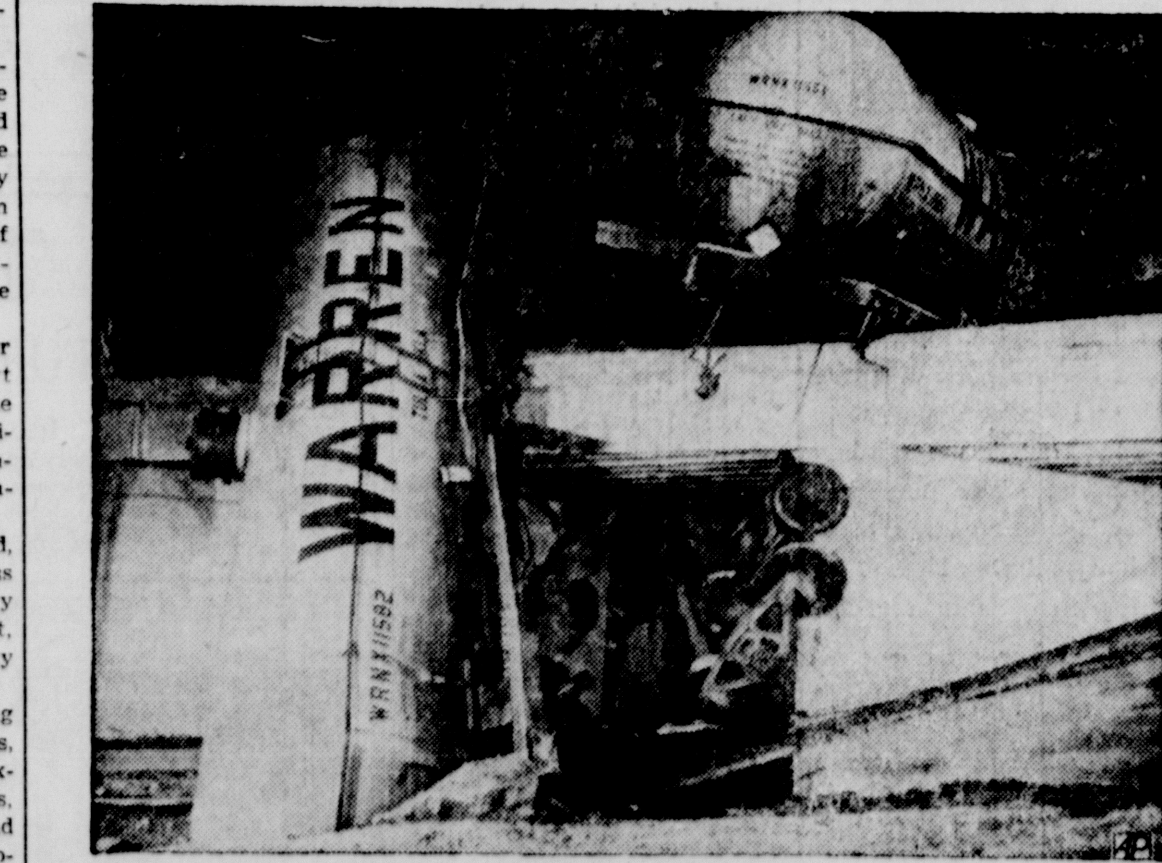

The driverless tractor had continued some 80 yards before stalling.

Five Trophies Won by Hamlin Youths at Show

Maintaining a record that has persisted for several years, club boys and girls of the Hamlin area took a large share of the awards and trophies at the annual Jones County Livestock Show last Saturday at Anson.

Although the total number of entries was down some from other years, the quality of the stock was high and the youths fared well when the judging was being done.

Two championships—in the fat barrow and broiler divisions—and three reserve championships—in the fat barrow, breeding swine and broiler divisions—were taken by Hamlin representatives.

Hamlin youths took seven of the 15 places in the steer division; seven of the 37 places in breeding swine; 19 of the 30 places in the fat barrow section; and 15 of the 20 poultry awards.

While Anson, Hamlin and Stamford have in previous county show pretty well dominated the competition, Leaders this year showed new strength, particularly in the lamb divisions.

Champion calf was shown by Stanley Harvey, 11-year-old Lue-Jers 4-H Club boy. It was a 760-pound Hereford, named Samba, bred by A. M. C. (Swede) Swenson of Stamford, and first place winner in the lightweight class.

a service to present and former service connected personnel by The Herald.

by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

mean I could receive VA outpatient treatment for any ailment
I might have?

out-patient care only for the disability or disabilities which have been adjudged service connected.
Your notification from VA lists those specific conditions.

Q.—I am considering paying GI insurance premiums once a year in advance. What if I were to die shortly after making my yearly advance payment? Would that money be lost?

A.—No. VA would refund to your beneficiaries any money which has not been applied to premium payments actually due.

Q.—I am a World War II veteran and I live in a house I bought with a GI loan. If I were forced to dispose of it after July 25, 1958, for some compelling reason such as health or job transfer, could I get my GI entitlement reinstated?

A.—Yes, so long as VA would be relieved of its guaranty liability. You then would be eligible for another GI loan until January 31, 1965, even though the World War II GI loan deadline would have passed.

Q.—I am the father of a deceased World War II veteran, receiving monthly payments under the survivor benefit law. In computing my annual income to determine whether I will remain eligible for the payments, do I include just my net take-home pay or my gross wages including various deductions? I have a small part-time job.

A.—You must include your gross salary, including money deducted for such items as taxes and retirement.

Paralysis Is Personal

There has been a lot of talk recently about polio statistics. They look very good. The prevalence of the paralytic disease went down sharply in 1957. The Salk vaccine obviously works and works wonderfully well. There is considerable putting on the back that victory is within our grasp.

Fine and dandy. But do we know that 1957 would not have been a light polio year anyway? We do not. Polio is a notoriously unpredictable disease, up one year and down the next.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis points out that there is one thing we do know for sure, and that is that a lot of people either have not been vaccinated at all or have not completed their full series of three shots.
These people will be in just as much danger if next summer is a heavy polio summer as though they lived before the age of Dr. Salk.

Statistics are figures—marks on a piece of paper. Paralysis is personal. If you or your children contract paralytic polio, all the encouraging statistics in the world will not ease the tragedy. And tragedy it is, in the fullest and most awful sense, if men, women and children are stricken by this venomous disease when the means to protect them are at hand.

The estimates that count, so far as any family is concerned, are its record of vaccination. Make no mistake about it, your own vaccination is the pay-off. Get it done. Finish your full series of three shots. National statistics are pretty meaningless in a family where a child or adult is struggling to breathe with muscles that have been knocked into nothingness by polio.

Nuggets of Thought

The art of living is the art of using experience—your own and other people's.—Sir Herbert Louis Samuel.

Learn from the mistakes of others—you can't live long enough to make them all yourself.—
Anonymous.

Experience is victor, never the vanquished,
and out of defeat comes the secret of victory.
—M. B. Eddy.

Experience is the mother of knowledge.—
Nicholas Breton.

Little things console us because little things affect us.—Blaise Pascal.

Human life and conduct are affected by ideals in the same way that they are effected by the examples of eminent men.—Benjamin Jewett.

How Not to Have Long 1958

Worried about making and keeping New Year's resolutions? Don't be!

Here is a set of resolutions from the Texas Safety Association that will be easy to make,
and if you follow them you won't live long enough to break a single one:

Don't stop for "Stop Signs"—they are for other cars.

Always ride bumper to bumper—you're insured.

Have one for the road before you start—you can't drive any worse.

Think about something else while driving—you drive by instinct any way.

Drive faster in bad weather—you will skid better, and the fast skid will probably head you back in the right direction.

Drive with your bright lights on—the other drivers are half asleep anyway.

Never yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian —they can jump sideways and your car can't.

Be courteous: Blow your horn so everyone can get out of your way—and always insist on the right-of-way and some day you'll get it with soft music, slow marching and flowers you won't be able to smell.

Editorial of the Week

CONSUMER SURVEYS UNDERWAY

Residents of this area will be among the consumers interviewed during January and February about their spending and saving during the past year and their prospects for 1958. This is one of 69 areas in which interviews will take place in the thirteenth annual survey of consumer finances, sponsored by the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System.

Interviews will be conducted in several major cities across the country. In Texas, areas to be surveyed include parts of Erath, Harris, Jones, Taylor and Waller Counties.

The survey will include questions regarding income, financial position, major purchases during 1957, and intentions to buy cars, other durable goods, and houses during 1958. Also covered is the consumers evaluation of his current financial situation and his prospects for the year.

This information is used in getting an idea of the business outlook. All interviews are held in strictest confidence. It is good that this area was selected. Far too many people over the rest of the country have gotten the idea that West Texas now is a desert as a result of the drought.—The Stamford American.

FROM BAD TO WORSE.

A New York psychiatrist met his old friend, Sam, and asked him how things were going.

"Not so good," was the pained reply. "My brother is very sick."

"Your brother isn't sick," contradicted the psychiatrist, "he only thinks he's sick. Remember that, he only thinks he's sick."

Two months later they met again.

"How's your brother now?" asked the psychiatrist.

"Worse," groaned Sam. "He thinks he's dead."

Skin Cleanliness Vital to Loveliness

Beauty in the basin follows this reliable formula: Use a wash cloth to apply thick soap suds to your face, beginning with lukewarm water. Re-apply the sudsy cloth at gradually higher temperatures until you can't stand it any hotter.

You'll soon be aglow with clean-scrubbed loveliness. Then splash on icy cold water to close the pores, and you will feel and look your best.

United States Can and Will Meet New Challenges of Strength, Says Burleson

There is an abundance of hindsight in Washington as the second session of the eighty-fifth Congress convenes, declares Congressman Omar Burleson from the 17th District, in his first release to The Herald in his column, As It Looks from Here. He continues:

Those who actually have little idea of how to meet the great issues of the future take refuge in what should have been done in the past.

While the earnest few seek the truth for past omissions on national defense as a guide for future action, others seemingly want to rush in and spend billions of dollars, presumably feeling it to be the total answer.

One thing in the controversies now raging seems to be fairly clear. The deficiencies existing in our national defense set-up (and there are definitely some) have not occurred by reason of a lack of funds. In my opinion it has simply been a matter of failing to put first things first.

Why has this not been done? The answer seems to lie in too much divided authority—too cumbersome procedures, which is inherent in our system of government. Our system is naturally clumsy. We would not and shall not change our concepts, but this question has been in the minds of many thinking people for a very long time: In a world which has shrunk to the proportion which places Washington and Moscow nearer to one another than Amarillo was to Brownsville or Tex-arkana to El Paso a decade ago, can our slow, built-in cumbersome processes compete with the Soviets, where decisions are made by one or two men? In addition to this inescapable fact, our decisions, our purpose and our actions are built on a moral basis, while our chief antagonist can ignore moral principles entirely.

There is no implied suggestion that we resort to the methods of the Soviets. We are pleading them enough by our show of panic in running off in all directions, but there are some things we can do. The first is to pinpoint responsibility by the grant of specific authority to men who must make decisions.

Our nation has the ability and resources to be the strongest country in the world, and it must be the strongest to deter war and prevent the world's destruction. It is a matter of using what we have to the best advantage.

In my opinion the appropriation of more billions of dollars for doubtful purposes is far from any total answer. To launch new spending program, such as subsidizing higher education, for the sake of "doing something" in a hurry, hardly seems sensible in meeting the great challenges of the immediate future.

After all is said and done, unless we continue to seek a settlement of the world's problems which will lead to a more peaceful atmosphere, all efforts on all sides may eventually be useless anyway.

Hamlin Junior High Cagers Beat Merkel

Hamlin Junior High School basketball boys gained revenge on the Merkel team by edging them 18 to 15 Monday night at Merkel. Merkel had beaten Hamlin at Anson 23 to 22 last Friday night.

Merkel started slowly in the game which saw Hamlin lead all the way. Frankie Lee provided the offense for Hamlin with 10 points. Stanley Austin and Jerry Duncan dropped in four points each.

Hamlin girls failed to find their scoring punch and lost to Merkel by a 15 to 4 score.

Hamlin seventh grade boys won their first game after losing to Albany last week. They won the Monday tilt by a 16 to 10 score.

PUTTING ON ICING.

A sheltered young New Yorker out on his first trip to the West was especially impressed with the sheer skill with which one cowboy rolled his cigarettes.

"Aw, shucks," said the latter, "tain't nothing to rolling them. It's adding the filter that gets me."

Anson Junior Cagers Play Here Monday

Basketball teams of Hamlin Junior High School will meet the Anson cagers here next Monday. The games will begin at 6:00 p. m., with the seventh grade boys tangle. The girls play at 7:00, and the eighth grade boys meet at 8:00.

Hamlin and Anson are tied for first place in the conference. Hamlin has won over Albany and Merkel while Anson has defeated Rotan.

CHANGING TACTICS.

Two girls were discussing their boy friends.

"Mine keeps telling me he won't get married before he gets a few samples," said one.

"He's a nice enough fellow, it seems," said her friend. "So why not be nice to him?"

"I'm tired of giving samples," snapped the girl. "Now I'm giving only references."

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Decline

Freight carloadings for the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending January 11, 1958, were 21,852 compared with 23,164 for the same week in 1957, reflecting a decline from the year ago figure. Cars received from connections totaled 8,499 compared with 10,906 for the same week in 1957.

Total cars moved were 30,351 compared with 34,070 for the same week in 1957. Santa Fe handled a total of 26,065 cars in the preceding week this year.

GETTING PERSONAL.

A man walked into a bar, sat on a stool and said to the bartender: "Give me something tall, cold and full of gin."

Whereupon the man sitting on the next stool drew himself up straight and said, "Sir, I'll have you know you are speaking of the woman I married."

The man who tries to work for the good, believing in its eventual victory, while he may suffer setback and even disaster, will never know defeat. The only deadly sin I know is cynicism.—Henry L. Stimson.

Texas Cotton Producers Urged to Learn Cotton Diseases and Ways to Handle

Texas cotton producers literally took it on the chin from a lot of sources in producing their 1957 crop. Floods, hail storms, insects and unfavorable weather; during the normal harvest season all took their toll but, reminds Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, cotton diseases got in a lick and cut production in the state by about 10 per cent.

He says the state average, however, does not tell the story because in areas where diseases struck the hardest, losses ran into millions of dollars. The three diseases which caused most of the damage were listed by Smith as bacterial blight, root rot and seedling diseases. These same diseases have been listed for the past six years as big trouble makers for cotton growers.

The specialist advises farmers to become familiar with the diseases most common in their area. This knowledge will enable them to plan a systematic control program. Detailed maps of the fields on which are shown areas known to be infected with cotton diseases are an aid in combating this production problem. These spots or areas can be left out of cotton and handled in a different way.

Better Grades of Staple Urged for Cotton Growers

Texas cotton farmers are offered one of the greatest opportunities in history in 1958, says the president of the Dallas Cotton Exchange.

A strong demand exists for good grades of cotton of every type grown in all areas of the state, according to Jack M. Craugh, who heads the Dallas Exchange.

The farmers who plant good seed, handle their crop properly during the season, and then harvest and gin for quality, face the prospect of selling all their cotton on the open market at a price above the 1957 loan level, Craugh believes.

There will be a shortage of high grade cotton in 1958 of all staple lengths, he said, because of the conditions created by the short crop and bad weather during harvest of the past season.

The American Cotton Industry should be able to export from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 bales next year with little difficulty, providing farmers produce the cotton suitable for export needs, Craugh declared.

The premium for good cotton as compared to low grade cotton should be higher next year because of the demand situation, Craugh said.

Unless Texas and American cotton farmers meet the market demands, Craugh believes that the buyers will turn to foreign cotton and synthetics to meet their needs.

There were 54 names signed to the Declaration of Independence.

Imaginary Tour of Big Celotex Plants Taken by Lions

Members and guests of Hamlin Lions Club were taken on a tour of the plants of the Celotex Corporation Tuesday at noon—even if an imaginary one—when the group met at the oil mill guest house. C. V. Herbert, maintenance supervisor of the Hamlin plant, was the guide as he spoke to an interested crowd.

Herbert declared that the local operation of the Celotex Corporation employed about 200 people. He declared that while most of the workers belong to the AFOFL union, however, no labor problems or strikes have been experienced for more than 10 years.

Beginning with the mining of calcium sulphate at the company's quarry at Longworth, 12 miles southwest of Hamlin, Herbert followed the processes through the crushers, screeners, kettles, mixing vats and board machines to the finished wallboard that is manufactured under the Celotex name of the concern. He said that enough wallboard could be manufactured in a 24-hour working day at the Hamlin plant to construct 100 homes of average size.

He also traced the material mined near the Hamlin plant to finished plaster.

The Celotex Corporation purchased the Hamlin plant in 1945 from Texas Plaster & Cement Company, and has greatly improved and enlarged it since the change in ownership.

J. B. Davenport, long time railroad official of the Santa Fe and member of the board of directors of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank at Hamlin, was a guest at the Tuesday luncheon.

Nurses of Area See Demonstration on Artificial Respiration

Nurses of the LUNA met January 7 at the nurses home in Stamford. Members were present from Stamford Hamlin and Anson hospitals for the highlight of the evening which was an informative demonstration on the new mode of artificial respiration using the latest resuscitator and the portable iron lung under the able direction of Garland Mitchell of the Stamford Fire Department.

The president Mrs. Irma Wallace, presided over the business session. A social get-together followed with refreshments of cake, cookies and coffee, served by the hostesses, Mmes. Yvonne Martin, Connie Mitchell and Frances Boone.

Meetings are held the first Tuesday night of each month at 7:30 p. m. The February meeting will also be at Stamford, when Dr. I. F. Hudson will speak on "Diabetes Mellitus," and a film will be shown on the subject.

REALLY ON THE JOB.

Police recently sent out six pictures of an escaped convict, each picture showing a different pose of the wanted man.

Shortly afterward a well meaning but somewhat over-conscientious sheriff in a backwoods locale sent the following wire: "Have captured five of the critters and on trail of the sixth."

DePriest School Cage Teams Split Games With Lubbock Crews

Basketballers of DePriest Colored School split a two-game bill with cagers from Dunbar Colored School of Lubbock Monday night at Hamlin High School gymnasium, the local girls winning and the boys dropping their milee.

DePriest girls nosed out the Lubbock sissies 46 to 41 in the curtain raiser. Shirley Jones, a transfer from Rotan, scored 38 points in the game to lead the markers. She has been outstanding in ball playing for eight years. This is her senior year.

In the second game, the Lubbock boys trimmed the Steers by a 53 to 34 count. Albert Douglas, son of Rev. A. F. Douglas, is DePriest's only senior cager this year, but the youngsters gave a good account of themselves against the Lubbock boys, who have won the state boys' championship for five years.

C. E. Gregory, FB President, Attends State Conference

C. E. Gregory of Hamlin, president of the Jones County Farm Bureau, is scheduled to attend an important conference of county Farm Bureau presidents next Monday and Tuesday at Waco.

The county leaders from all over Texas will analyze the role of the county unit and make suggestions as to how local organizations may be strengthened to make the entire Farm Bureau movement a more effective instrument for representing agriculture.

Largest of all farm organizations in the state, the Texas Farm Bureau is composed of 191 organized county units. Membership in the state organization has increased by 44,860 in the past 10 years, from 27,820 in 1947 to 72,680 in 1957. The Jones County Farm Bureau has a membership of 320.

In commenting on the county presidents' conference, TFB President J. H. West of Bishop said it could well be the most important meeting of the year for the Farm Bureau in Texas.

"The entire structure of Farm Bureau is built upon the foundation of the county Farm Bureau," he said. "Without the work and efforts and unselfish sacrifice on the part of volunteer leaders on the county level, Farm Bureau could not be the effective organization that it is today."

All phases of Farm Bureau activity on the county level will be studied at the two-day Waco session. County presidents will divide themselves into groups to analyze various responsibilities of the organization. Results of their findings will be printed and distributed to all county Farm Bureau for their consideration.

The boss leaned back in his chair. "That is, Henry," he added, "just as soon as we can find out what it is that you've been doing."

New Congress Faces Different World With New Problems, Says Jonshon

The new Congress faces a new world, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his first weekly news letter to The Herald, from Washington for the new year. He continues:

Since last we met, our world has grown to the edges of space. And, as our world has grown, so have our problems.

Strength must be the keynote for America in 1958.

Our strength must be of two kinds. We have to be strong from a military point of view. We have to be strong from an economic point of view.

Our defenses are not strong enough so long as we lag behind the Russians in weapon development. We are behind at this time.

Our domestic economy is not strong enough so long as our farmers are caught in a tight economic squeeze—so long as there are not enough jobs for people wanting to work—so long as small business enterprises continue to fail at an alarming rate—so long as the cost of living keeps going up and the administration's tight money, high interest rate policy places such a heavy burden on our people.

There is—beyond our defense and economic needs—a greater challenge.

From the searching investigation conducted by the Senate preparedness committee, of which I am chairman, we have learned this:

Control of space means control of the world, far more certainly, far more totally than any control that has ever been or could ever be achieved by weapons, or by troops of occupation.

From space, the masters of infinity would have the power to control the earth's weather, to cause drought and flood, to change the tides and raise the levels of the sea, to divert the gulf stream and change temperate climates to frigid.

The urgent race we are now in—or which we must enter—is not the race to perfect long range ballistic missiles.

There is something more important than any ultimate weapon. That is the ultimate position—the position of total control over earth that lies somewhere out in space.

This is the future, the distant future, though not so distant as we have thought. Whoever gains that position gains control, total control, over the earth, for purposes of tyranny or the service of freedom.

The task is as tremendous as the challenge.

Americans are a "can do" people. We traditionally rise to our greatest heights of achievement when we are confronted with our most demanding challenge.

I have not the slightest doubt that we will do it this time.

Youthful Actors Command Roles in "All Mine to Give"

Hollywood's proverbial idealistic "accent on youth" seems to be getting literal interpretation in at least one of the season's major attractions.

Six talented juvenile performers have top parts in RKO's "All Mine to Give," announced as a technicolor family saga starring Glynnis Johns, Cameron Mitchell, Betty McCormack and Rex Thompson. The new production opens Sunday at the Ferguson Theater.

The widely read true story by Dale Eunson, published twice in Cosmopolitan magazine under the title, "The Day They Gave Babies Away," deals with human fortitude and survival on the Wisconsin frontier a century ago.

Eunson's grandfather, a Scottish immigrant, inspired the drama, not only as a pioneering settler but by establishing the Eunson cal in America with six children. How the youngsters were orphaned, as described in the story, has become a classic item of Wisconsin folklore.

Rex Thompson, 12-year-old actor who received acclaim for his performance in "The Eddie Duchin Story" and on the stage in "The King and I," portrays young Robbie Eunson in the picture.

Patty McCormack, remarkable little actress famed for her success in "The Bad Seed," portrays the eldest Eunson daughter.

Other young notables seen as the Eunson children are Steve Wooten, Butch Bernard, Yolanda White and diminutive Terry Ann Ross.

Four sets of twins were engaged by Producer Sam Wiesenstall to work in the film which offered 15 important roles for boys and girls from two to 11 years of age.

More than 500 Hollywood juveniles are said to have applied for the jobs.

Directed by Allen Riesner, "All Mine to Give," also brings such popular players as Ernest Truax, Alan Hale and Hope Emerson.

Les Cowan Resigns As Knox City Coach

Les Cowan, head football coach at Knox City for the last four years, has resigned his job effective of the school year. He is the son of Mrs. L. L. Cowan of Hamlin.

The former McMurry College and Chicago Bears athlete said he has not accepted another job, but "I feel that four years is long enough to stay in one place. I feel I ought to either move up or move on."

Cowan says he wants to remain in the coaching field "if I can find the right offer," and said he preferred to stay in the West Central Texas area.

GUN FOR GACOWARD

Being a column in which the publisher just "blows off the steam."

By Willard Jones

THE FIRST MORNING after the honeymoon, the Hamlin young husband got up early went down to the kitchen and brought his wife her breakfast in bed. Naturally, she was delighted.

Then the husband spoke: "Have you noticed just what I have done?"

"Of course, dear; every single detail."

"Good. That's how I want my breakfast served every morning after this!"

A FARMER down near McCaulley brought in to us a clipping that expresses the feeling of a lot of folks nowadays. It is in the form of an open letter to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson:

Dear Mr. Secretary: My friend Bordeaux over in Terrebonne Parish received a $1,000 check from the government this year for not raising hogs. So I am going into the not-raising-hog business next year.

What I want to know is, in your opinion, what is the best kind of farm not to raise hogs on and the best kind of hogs not to raise?

I would prefer not to raise razorbacks, but if that is not a good breed not to raise, I will just as gladly not raise any Berkshires or Durocs.

The hardest work in this business is going to be in keeping an inventory of how many hogs I haven't raised.

My friend Bordeaux is very joyful about the future of this business. He has been raising hogs for more than 20 years and the best he ever made was $400 until this year, when he got $1,000 for not raising hogs.

If I can get $1,000 for not raising 50 hogs, then I will get $2,000 for not raising 100 hogs.

I plan to operate on a small scale at first, holding myself down to about 4,000 hogs, which means I will have $80,000.

Now, another thing: These hogs I will not raise will not eat 100,000 bushels of corn. I understand that you also pay farmers for not raising corn. So will you pay me anything for not raising 100,000 bushels of corn not to feed the hogs I am not raising?

I want to get started as soon as possible as this seems to be a good time of the year for not raising hogs.—Octave Broussard, Louisiana.

P. S.—Can I raise 10 or 12 hogs on the side while I am in the not-raising-hog business—just enough to get a few sides of bacon to eat?

A HAMLIN TEACHER the other day reminded us that her class has the philosopher type of a youngster.

"Who was the smartest inventor of all times and why?" the teacher asked her group.

"Edison," quickly replied one young lad. "He invented the phonograph and radio so people would stay up all night using his electric light bulbs."

Political Pot Begins To Stew in Region

The political pot in Jones County finally got to simmering this week after a more belated start than usual.

Three candidates announced for county offices this week, and another threw his hat in the ring for the state representative place in the 85th Representative District.

Two candidates had previously announced their candidacy for reelection in Fisher county.

Traditionally in Texas the week between Christmas and New Year signals the opening of the political season. Some candidates like to announce their intentions early, while others do not.

On the state level everything is pretty much a matter of conjecture at this time, with few if any definite commitments.

In this section, State Senator David W. Ratliff of Stamford and State Representative Moyne Kelly of Afton must stand for reelection. Senators serve four years, while representatives serve two — the same as most all other state officeholders.

County officials now serve four years, with some offices becoming vacant every two years. Offices up for election this year are district clerk, county clerk, county judge, county treasurer, county school superintendent, county surveyor, and commissioners of Precincts 2 and 4, as well as all justices of the peace.

In the city of Hamlin the terms of four councilmen—Gene Prewitt, B. O. Bell, Bill Seals and L. H. McBride—expire in April.

Primitive Baptists Set Services at Dovie
Primitive Baptists of the Hamlin territory will conduct services each third Sunday beginning January 19. The services will be held at the Dovie community church, five miles east of town on the Hamlin-Stamford highway.

Services will be conducted at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend, say Primitive Baptist leaders.

U. S. Senator Johnson Says Potential World Peace Within Grasp of Nations

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told his colleagues as Congress opened its session that "a potential for peace never before within man's reach" lies beyond the present peril faced by the United States, according to a release to The Herald from Washington.

Senator Johnson told the conference of Democratic senators that "the ground beneath us when we last met has been largely swept away."

Since Congress adjourned last August, he said, "The human race has multiplied its capabilities to infinity."

"The exploitation of these capabilities by men of selfish purpose holds the awful threat of a world in subjugation," he warned. "The mastery of such capabilities by men wholly dedicated to freedom presents, instead, the prospect of a world at last liberated from tyranny, liberated in fact from the threat of war."

The Texas senator called for non-partisan, determined effort by members of Congress to make a beginning "on what must ultimately be done" to insure the unchallengeable strength of the nation.

"We must work," he declared, "as though no other Congress would ever have an opportunity to meet this challenge, for in fact, none will have an opportunity comparable."

"We must, furthermore, bring to this opportunity a freshness, an originality, a diligence far exceeding our previous standards, for many of the concepts and ideas and rules, which have applied to our actions in the past are no longer pertinent and applicable."

Dick Gruben Hurt Last Saturday in Tractor Accident

Dick Gruben, 30-year-old farmer in the Royston community, west of Hamlin, was seriously injured Saturday afternoon about 4:00 o'clock when run over by his tractor. He was some improved first of the week but still remained in Callan Hospital at Rotan.

Gruben, unable to crawl, lay in a cotton field about 50 yards from his pick-up truck for about half a hour after being injured. A neighbor finally heard his cry for help.

Admitted to Callan Hospital at 5:00 p. m., Gruben was found to have a broken pelvis, according to initial x-rays. He was placed in traction, and other x-rays were taken Sunday.

Gruben had been stripping cotton on the farm of his brother, Troy Gruben. Behind his tractor was a stripping machine followed by a cotton trailer. He was standing in front of the back tractor wheel, and released the clutch on the stripper, the family said. The tractor, in gear, started up and the back wheel passed over his body. Gruben managed to roll out of the path of the trailer loaded with about two bales of cotton.

Lying about 75 yards from the road, he yelled for help when a neighbor, Foy Mitchell, drove by, but Mitchell could not hear above his car's engine. Mitchell arrived home, about half a mile away, and Gruben yelled again, Mitchell this time hearing the cry for help.

The driverless tractor had continued some 80 yards before stalling.

The structure is located across the street south of the Colored Methodist building in Northeast Hamlin.

Erection of the edifice was made possible by the Church of Christ (white) in Hamlin. The place of worship is free of indebtedness.

Five Trophies Won by Hamlin Youths at Show

Maintaining a record that has persisted for several years, club boys and girls of the Hamlin area took a large share of the awards and trophies at the annual Jones County Livestock Show last Saturday at Anson.

Although the total number of entries was down some from other years, the quality of the stock was high and the youths fared well when the judging was being done.

Two championships—in the fat barrow and broiler divisions—and three reserve championships—in the fat barrow, breeding swine and broiler divisions—were taken by Hamlin representatives.

Hamlin youths took seven of the 15 places in the steer division; seven of the 37 places in breeding swine; 19 of the 39 places in the fat barrow section; and 15 of the 20 poultry awards.

While Anson, Hamlin and Stamford have in previous county show pretty well dominated the competition, Leaders this year showed new strength, particularly in the lamb divisions.

Champion calf was shown by Stanley Harvey, 11-year-old Leaders 4-H Club boy. It was a 760-pound Hereford, named Sambo, bred by A. M. C. (Swede) Swenson of Stamford, and first place winner in the lightweight class.

The reserve champion, also a Hereford, was shown by Phillip Newson, also an 11-year-old Leaders boy. The calf, named "Matt," was first place winner in the heavyweight class. He weighed 930 pounds and was bred by Matt Blanton of Albany.

Mark Holloway, Anson FFA boy, showed his first place winning senior Duroc gilt to the female championship in the swine class; Jerry Crowley, Hamlin FFA boy, showed his senior Poland China gilt to the reserve championship.

In the barrow competition, Hamlin took both top honors. Carl Weaver showed his first place winning medium weight pig to the championship, and his classmate, Jerry Crowley, showed the lightweight winner to the reserve championship.

John Schoonmaker, Stamford FFA lad, took first in the pen of three fat barrows on three uniform Durocs.

D. V. Cook, Anson FFA boy, showed both the champion and reserve.

BOARD OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT TIMELY

Organization of the Hamlin Board of Community Development last Friday evening at the high school gymnasium gives many forward looking citizens new hope and interest in the future growth and prosperity for the region. Such a move was long overdue since the collapse two years ago of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce.

There are numerous projects for the interest of the community that have been shunted and neglected during the past 24 months that need the attention and action that only such a community-wide civic organization can advantageously handle.

The combined efforts of representatives from 20 small clubs and organizations in the area are responsible for the formation of this broad-scope organization that will work for the interests of the entire Hamlin trade territory. The fact that 20 smaller organizations showed unusual interest in the new BCD portends a splendid concern for the future.

Carl Murrell, one of the region's most progressive men civically, has agreed to head the new Board of Community Development. But Carl Murrell cannot do all that needs to be done. He is a mighty busy man—but he acknowledges that his community deserves some of his time and talents. He has a board

Paralysis Is Personal

There has been a lot of talk recently about polio statistics. They look very good. The incidence of the paralytic disease went down sharply in 1957. The Salk vaccine obviously works and works wonderfully well. There is considerable patting on the back that victory is within our grasp.

Fine and dandy. But do we know that 1957 would not have been a light polio year anyway? We do not. Polio is a notoriously unpredictable disease, up one year and down the next.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis points out that there is one thing we do know for sure, and that is that a lot of people either have not been vaccinated at all or have not completed their full series of three shots. These people will be in just as much danger if next summer is a heavy polio summer as though they lived before the age of Dr. Salk.

Statistics are figures—marks on a piece of paper. Paralysis is personal. If you or your children contract paralytic polio, all the encouraging statistics in the world will not ease the tragedy. And tragedy it is, in the fullest and most awful sense, if men, women and children are stricken by this venomous disease when the means to protect them are at hand.

The estimates that count, so far as any family is concerned, are its record of vaccination. Make no mistake about it, your own vaccination is the pay-off. Get it done. Finish your full series of three shots. National statistics are pretty meaningless in a family where a child or adult is struggling to breathe with muscles that have been knocked into nothingness by polio.

Nuggets of Thought

The art of living is the art of using experience—your own and other people's.—Sir Herbert Louis Samuel.

Learn from the mistakes of others—you can't live long enough to make them all yourself.—Anonymous.

Experience is victor, never the vanquished, and out of defeat comes the secret of victory.—M. B. Eddy.

Experience is the mother of knowledge.—Nicholas Breton.

Little things console us because little things affect us.—Blaise Pascal.

Human life and conduct are affected by ideals in the same way that they are affected by the examples of eminent men.—Benjamin Lewitt.

of about twenty other officers and directors to assist him in mapping and developing the needs and expansion of the Hamlin community. But even these twenty men are not the only ones who have obligations to work for their community.

Judging by the enthusiasm and interest in the continued growth and expansion of the community displayed Friday night at the BCD banquet, we prophesy that the Hamlin community will enter into a new era of cooperation and team-work and resulting progress that will surpass even some of the most optimistic citizens. Not even reduced crops and other discouraging factors of the past several years can keep a determined community from going forward if it has boosting and cooperation and community interests in mind rather than jealousies and bickerings and pessimistic attitudes.

As the little placard placed in windows just before the banquet read: "Your Community is what I make it . . . nothing more," the eventual accomplishments in this community depend on two people—you and I. Will we meet our responsibilities with whole-hearted willingness to work, or will we get back in the doldrums with a "Let George do it" reaction to the opportunity to grow?

How Not to Have Long 1958

Worried about making and keeping New Year's resolutions? Don't be!

Here is a set of resolutions from the Texas Safety Association that will be easy to make, and if you follow them you won't live long enough to break a single one:

Don't stop for "Stop Signs"—they are for other cars.

Always ride bumper to bumper—you're insured.

Have one for the road before you start—you can't drive any worse.

Think about something else while driving—you drive by instinct any way.

Drive faster in bad weather—you will skid better, and the fast skid will probably head you back in the right direction.

Drive with your bright lights on—the other drivers are half asleep anyway.

Never yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian—they can jump sideways and your car can't.

Be courteous: Blow your horn so everyone can get out of your way—and always insist on the right-of-way and some day you'll get it with soft music, slow marching and flowers you won't be able to smell.

Editorial of the Week

CONSUMER SURVEYS UNDERWAY

Residents of this area will be among the consumers interviewed during January and February about their spending and saving during the past year and their prospects for 1958. This is one of 69 areas in which interviews will take place in the thirteenth annual survey of consumer finances, sponsored by the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System.

Interviews will be conducted in several major cities across the country. In Texas, areas to be surveyed include parts of Erath, Harris, Jones, Taylor and Waller Counties.

The survey will include questions regarding income, financial position, major purchases during 1957, and intentions to buy cars, other durable goods, and houses during 1958. Also covered is the consumers evaluation of his current financial situation and his prospects for the year.

This information is used in getting an idea of the business outlook. All interviews are held in strictest confidence. It is good that this area was selected. Far too many people over the rest of the country have gotten the idea that West Texas now is a desert as a result of the drought.—The Stamford American.

Mary Jo Hubbard, bride-elect of Lawrence Douglas Cook, was honored with a gift tea in the home of Mrs. L. E. Prewit Tuesday evening between the hours of 7:00 and 9:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Prewit, along with Miss Hubbard and her mother, Mrs. Travis Hubbard, and Mrs. Foster Cook, mother of the groom, greeted guests in the foyer as they arrived. The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cut-work cloth over pale blue. The bride-elect's colors of blue and white were also carried out in the centerpiece featuring large wedding bells tied with blue satin ribbons with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums. Blue satin streamers from the bells bore the wedding date, January 25. Crystal candelabra with pale blue candles flanked the centerpiece.

After being served, the guests were ushered into the den and bedrooms by Mrs. Cecil Sellers, Mrs. Noel Weaver and Mrs. Clyde Grice, where gifts were displayed on white satin covered tables. Mrs. Marvin Carlton presided at the guest registry.

Other hostesses assisting with the tea were Mmes. Jack Harden, Joe Hudspeth Jr., Jimmy Kiker, Don Lock, Joe Norton and A. G. Smith.

"Your brother isn't sick," contradicted the psychiatrist, "he only thinks he's sick. Remember that, he only thinks he's sick."

"Worse," groaned Sam. "He thinks he's dead."

Skin Cleanliness Vital to Loveliness

Beauty in the basin follows this reliable formula: Use a wash cloth to apply thick soap suds to your face, beginning with lukewarm water. Re-apply the sudsy cloth at gradually higher temperatures until you can't stand it any hotter.

You'll soon be aglow with clean-scrubbed loveliness. Then splash on icy cold water to close the pores, and you will feel and look your best.

United States Can and Will Meet New Challenges of Strength, Says Burleson

There is an abundance of hindsight in Washington as the second session of the eighty-fifth Congress convenes, declares Congressman Omar Burleson from the 17th District, in his first release to The Herald in his column, As It Looks from Here. He continues:

Those who actually have little idea of how to meet the great issues of the future take refuge in what should have been done in the past.

While the earnest few seek the truth for past omissions on national defense as a guide for future action, others seem willing to rush in and spend billions of dollars, presumably feeling it to be the total answer.

One thing in the controversies now raging seems to be fairly clear. The deficiencies existing in our national defense set-up (and there are definitely some) have not occurred by reason of a lack of funds. In my opinion it has simply been a matter of failing to put first things first.

Why has this not been done? The answer seems to lie in too much divided authority—too cumbersome procedures, which is inherent in our system of government. Our system is naturally clumsy. We would not and shall not chance our concepts, but this question has been in the minds of many thinking people for a very long time: In a world which has shrunk to the proportion which places Washington and Moscow nearer to one another than Amarillo was to Brownsville or Tex-arkana to El Paso a decade ago, can our slow, built-in cumbersome processes compete with the Soviets, where decisions are made by one or two men? In addition to this inescapable fact, our decisions, our purpose and our actions are built on a moral basis, while our chief antagonist can ignore moral principles entirely.

There is no implied suggestion that we resort to the methods of the Soviets. We are pleasing them enough by our show of panic in running off in all directions, but there are some things we can do. The first is to pinpoint responsibility by the grant of specific authority to men who must make decisions.

Our nation has the ability and resources to be the strongest country in the world, and it must be the strongest to deter war and prevent the world's destruction. It is a matter of using what we have to the best advantage.

In my opinion the appropriation of more billions of dollars for doubtful purposes is far from any total answer. To launch new spending program, such as subsidizing higher education, for the sake of "doing something" in a hurry, hardly seems sensible in meeting the great challenges of the immediate future.

After all is said and done, unless we continue to seek a settlement of the world's problems which will lead to a more peaceful atmosphere, all efforts on all sides may eventually be useless anyway.

Hamlin Junior High Cagers Beat Merkel

Hamlin Junior High School basketball boys gained revenge on the Merkel team by edging them 18 to 15 Monday night at Merkel. Merkel had beaten Hamlin at Anson 23 to 22 last Friday night.

Merkel started slowly in the game which saw Hamlin lead all the way. Frankie Lee provided the offense for Hamlin with 10 points. Stanley Austin and Jerry Duncan dropped in four points each.

Hamlin girls failed to find their scoring punch and lost to Merkel by a 15 to 4 score.

Hamlin seventh grade boys won their first game after losing to Albany last week. They won the Monday tilt by a 16 to 10 score.

PUTTING ON ICING.

A sheltered young New Yorker out on his first trip to the West was especially impressed with the sheer skill with which one cowboy rolled his cigarettes.

"Aw, shucks," said the latter, "tain't nothing to rolling them. It's adding the filter that gets me."

Anson Junior Cagers Play Here Monday

CHANGING TACTICS.

Two girls were discussing their boy friends.

"Mine keeps telling me he won't get married before he gets a few samples," said one.

"He's a nice enough fellow, it seems," said her friend. "So why not be nice to him?"

"I'm tired of giving samples," snapped the girl. "Now I'm giving only references."

Experience shows that success is due less to ability than to zeal. The winner is he who gives himself to his work, body and soul.—Charles Buxton.

Freight Carloadings For Santa Fe Decline

Freight carloadings for the Santa Fe Railway System for the week ending January 11, 1958, were 21,852 compared with 23,164 for the same week in 1957, reflecting a decline from the year ago figure. Cars received from connections totaled 8,499 compared with 10,906 for the same week in 1957.

Total cars moved were 30,351 compared with 34,070 for the same week in 1957. Santa Fe handled a total of 26,065 cars in the preceding week this year.

GETTING PERSONAL.

A man walked into a bar, sat on a stool and said to the bartender: "Give me something tall, cold and full of gin."

Whereupon the man sitting on the next stool drew himself up straight and said, "Sir, I'll have you know you are speaking of the woman I married."

The man who tries to work for the good, believing in its eventual victory, while he may suffer setback and even disaster, will never know defeat. The only deadly sin I know is cynicism.—Henry L. Stimson.

Gene Spurgin Jr. to Seek Clerkship Again

Spurgin will have a prepared statement about his campaign later in the season, he states.

Leon Thurman Enters Representative Race

Leon Thurman, who is completing his third term as clerk of the district court of Jones County, this week authorizes The Herald to announce that he will seek election to the office of state representative of the 94th District.

"I hate to be late!" he panted to a classmate. "I need the sleep!"

Everett Beaver Asks Reelection to County Superintendent Post

Everett Beaver, county superintendent of schools, is seeking reelection to the office, and submits the following statement:

This means is taken to express my appreciation to the people and schools of Jones County for the privilege of serving as your county school superintendent and to ask reelection to this office. I am deeply grateful for the responsibility and confidence you have delegated to me.

Even though my qualifications have been submitted before, please permit me to review these with you:

I am 47 years of age, married, with two children, and hold both the bachelor and master of arts degrees, with majors in administrative education, social science and Spanish, from the University of Texas. In addition to this formal training, I have kept myself currently informed educationally through professional reading and by attending and participating in all important school meetings and functions.

My experience includes 23 years in educational work as outlined hereafter: One year as an elementary teacher, three years as high school teacher and coach, two years as high school principal, five years as superintendent of an independent school district, and the remainder as your county school superintendent. This experience has been continuous, broken only by more than three years with the armed forces during World War II.

The training and experience outlined above have acquainted me with all phases of school work which, added to a sincere desire to serve, will enable me to continue to function efficiently as your county school superintendent.

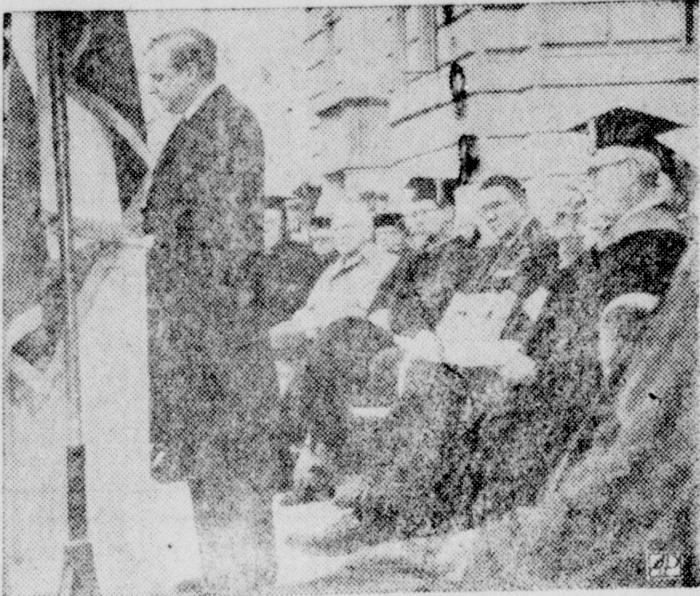

As I have served professionally, I have always taken active part in the church and civic affairs of my community and county, a course I shall continue to follow.

Your vote, cooperation and influence has been and will be appreciated. If you choose to keep me in this office, I shall continue to give you and the schools of Jones County prompt, efficient, impartial, honest, conscientious and courteous service, striving always to make you a better county superintendent.

Texas Cotton Producers Urged to Learn Cotton Diseases and Ways to Handle

Texas cotton producers literally took it on the chin from a lot of sources in producing their 1957 crop. Floods, hail storms, insects and unfavorable weather during the normal harvest season all took their toll but, reminds Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, cotton diseases got in a lick and cut production in the state by about 10 per cent.

He says the state average, however, does not tell the story because in areas where diseases struck the hardest, losses ran into millions of dollars. The three diseases which caused most of the damage were listed by Smith as bacterial blight, root rot and seedling diseases. These same diseases have been listed for the past six years as big trouble makers for cotton growers.

The specialist advises farmers to become familiar with the diseases most common in their area. This knowledge will enable them to plan a systematic control program. Detailed maps of the fields on which are shown areas known to be infected with cotton diseases are an aid in combating this production problem. These spots or areas can be left out of cotton and handled in a different way.

Better Grades of Staple Urged for Cotton Growers

Texas cotton farmers are offered one of the greatest opportunities in history in 1958, says the president of the Dallas Cotton Exchange.

A strong demand exists for good grades of cotton of every type grown in all areas of the state, according to Jack M. Craugh, who heads the Dallas Exchange.

The farmers who plant good seed, handle their crop properly during the season, and then harvest and gin for quality, face the prospect of selling all their cotton on the open market at a price above the 1957 loan level, Craugh believes.

There will be a shortage of high grade cotton in 1958 of all staple lengths, he said, because of the conditions created by the short crop and bad weather during harvest of the past season.

The American Cotton Industry should be able to export from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 bales next year with little difficulty, providing farmers produce the cotton suitable for export needs, Craugh declared.

The premium for good cotton as compared to low grade cotton should be higher next year because of the demand situation, Craugh said.

Unless Texas and American cotton farmers meet the market demands, Craugh believes that the buyers will turn to foreign cotton and synthetics to meet their needs.

There were 54 names signed to the Declaration of Independence.

Imaginary Tour of Big Celotex Plants Taken by Lions

Members and guests of Hamlin Lions Club were taken on a tour of the plants of the Celotex Corporation Tuesday at noon—even if an imaginary one—when the group met at the oil mill guest house. C. V. Herbert, maintenance supervisor of the Hamlin plant, was the guide as he spoke to an interested crowd.

Herbert declared that the local operation of the Celotex Corporation employed about 200 people. He declared that while most of the workers belong to the AFOFL union, however, no labor problems or strikes have been experienced for more than 10 years.

Beginning with the mining of calcium sulphate at the company's quarry at Longworth, 12 miles southwest of Hamlin, Herbert followed the processes through the crushers, screeners, kettles, mixing vats and board machines to the finished wallboard that is manufactured under the Celotex name of the concern. He said that enough wallboard could be manufactured in a 24-hour working day at the Hamlin plant to construct 100 homes of average size.

He also traced the material mined near the Hamlin plant to finished plaster.

The Celotex Corporation purchased the Hamlin plant in 1945 from Texas Plaster & Cement Company, and has greatly improved and enlarged it since the change in ownership.

J. B. Davenport, long time railroad official of the Santa Fe and member of the board of directors of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank at Hamlin, was a guest at the Tuesday luncheon.

One Texas yarn tells of a local tycoon who rushed to the airport and demanded a ticket.

"Where to, sir?" asked the agent.

"Anywhere, son," came the reply. "I've business all over!"

DePriest School Cage Teams Split Games With Lubbock Crews

Basketballers of DePriest Colored School split a two-game bill with cagers from Dunbar Colored School of Lubbock Monday night at Hamlin High School gymnasium, the local girls winning and the boys dropping their milee.

DePriest girls nosed out the Lubbock sisies 46 to 41 in the curtain raiser. Shirley Jones, a transfer from Rotan, scored 38 points in the game to lead the markers. She has been outstanding in ball playing for eight years. This is her senior year.

In the second game, the Lubbock boys trimmed the Steers by a 53 to 34 count. Albert Douglas, son of Rev. A. F. Douglas, is DePriest's only senior cager this year, but the youngsters gave a good account of themselves against the Lubbock boys, who have won the state boys' championship for five years.

C. E. Gregory, FB President, Attends State Conference

C. E. Gregory of Hamlin, president of the Jones County Farm Bureau, is scheduled to attend an important conference of county Farm Bureau presidents next Monday and Tuesday at Waco.

The county leaders from all over Texas will analyze the role of the county unit and make suggestions as to how local organizations may be strengthened to make the entire Farm Bureau movement a more effective instrument for representing agriculture.

Largest of all farm organizations in the state, the Texas Farm Bureau is composed of 191 organized county units. Membership in the state organization has increased by 44,860 in the past 10 years, from 27,820 in 1947 to 72,680 in 1957. The Jones County Farm Bureau has a membership of 320.

In commenting on the county presidents' conference, TFB President J. H. West of Bishop said it could well be the most important meeting of the year for the Farm Bureau in Texas.

"The entire structure of Farm Bureau is built upon the foundation of the county Farm Bureau," he said. "Without the work and efforts and unselfish sacrifice on the part of volunteer leaders on the county level, Farm Bureau could not be the effective organization that it is today."

All phases of Farm Bureau activity on the county level will be studied at the two-day Waco session. County presidents will divide themselves into groups to analyze various responsibilities of the organization. Results of their findings will be printed and distributed to all county Farm Bureaus for their consideration.

LENDING A HAND.

Cornelius was hauled to the hospital for an emergency appendectomy. After the operation his boss was the first to visit him. "Henry," said the boss cheerfully, "we don't want you to worry about a thing. Everybody at the office is going to pitch in and do your work while you're sick."

The boss leaned back in his chair. "That is, Henry," he added, "just as soon as we can find out what it is that you've been doing."

NO COMPLAINT THERE.

Two boys were walking down a street together. One boy was eating an apple.

The one with no apple said to the boy with the apple, "If I had an apple I would give it to you."

The boy with the apple said, "What are you kicking about—I got it, ain't I?"

WHO'S SCARED NOW?—Whitey Sawyer, Associated Press newsman, shows how he feared he would appear after a tour of an automobile thrill show. That smile on his face shows that he did, after all, calm down the little woman and he's still wearing his wedding ring. The broken steering wheel is just a prop, but the helmet was real enough.

New Congress Faces Different World With New Problems, Says Jonshon

The new Congress faces a new world, declares U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, in his first weekly news letter to The Herald, from Washington for the new year. He continues:

Since last we met, our world has grown to the edges of space. And, as our world has grown, so have our problems.

Strength must be the keynote for America in 1958. Our strength must be of two kinds. We have to be strong from a military point of view.

Our defenses are not strong enough so long as we lag behind the Russians in weapon development. We are behind at this time.

Our domestic economy is not strong enough so long as our farmers are caught in a tight economic squeeze—so long as there are not enough jobs for people wanting to work—so long as small business enterprises continue to fail at an alarming rate—so long as the cost of living keeps going up and the administration's tight money, high interest rate policy places such a heavy burden on our people.

There is—beyond our defense and economic needs—a greater challenge.

From the searching investigation conducted by the Senate preparedness committee, of which I am chairman, we have learned this:

Control of space means control of the world, far more certainly, far more totally than any control that has ever been or could ever be achieved by weapons, or by troops of occupation.

From space, the masters of infinity would have the power to control the earth's weather, to cause drought and flood, to change the tides and raise the levels of the sea, to divert the gulf stream and change temperate climates to frigid.

The urgent race we are now in—or which we must enter—is not the race to perfect long range ballistic missiles.

There is something more important than any ultimate weapon. That is the ultimate position—the position of total control over earth that lies somewhere out in space.

This is the future, the distant future, though not so distant as we have thought. Whoever gains that position gains control, total control, over the earth, for purposes of tyranny or the service of freedom.

The task is as tremendous as the challenge.

Americans are a "can do" people. We traditionally rise to our greatest heights of achievement when we are confronted with our most demanding challenge.

I have not the slightest doubt that we will do it this time.

Youthful Actors Command Roles in "All Mine to Give"

Hollywood's proverbial idealistic "accent on youth" seems to be getting literal interpretation in at least one of the season's major attractions.

Six talented juvenile performers have top parts in RKO's "All Mine to Give," announced as a technicolor family saga starring Glynis Johns, Cameron Mitchell, Betty McCormack and Rex Thompson. The new production opens Sunday at the Ferguson Theater.

The widely read true story by Dale Eunson, published twice in Cosmopolitan magazine under the title, "The Day They Gave Babies Away," deals with human fortitude and survival on the Wisconsin frontier a century ago.

Eunson's grandfather, a Scottish immigrant, inspired the drama, not only as a pioneering settler but by establishing the Eunson clan in America with six children. How the youngsters were orphaned, as described in the story, has become a classic item of Wisconsin folklore.

Rex Thompson, 12-year-old actor who received acclaim for his performance in "The Eddie Duchin Story" and on the stage in "The King and I," portrays young Robbie Eunson in the picture.

Patty McCormack, remarkable little actress famed for her success in "The Bad Seed," portrays the eldest Eunson daughter.

Other young notables seen as the Eunson children are Steve Wooten, Butch Bernard, Yolanda White and diminutive Terry Ann Ross.

Four sets of twins were engaged by Producer Sam Wiesensthal to work in the film which offered 15 important roles for boys and girls from two to 11 years of age.

More than 500 Hollywood juveniles are said to have applied for the jobs.

Directed by Allen Riesner, "All Mine to Give," also brings such popular players as Ernest Truex, Alan Hale and Hope Emerson.

Les Cowan Resigns As Knox City Coach

Les Cowan, head football coach at Knox City for the last four years, has resigned his job effective of the school year. He is the son of Mrs. L. L. Cowan of Hamlin.

The former McMurry College and Chicago Bears athlete said he has not accepted another job, but "I feel that four years is long enough to stay in one place. I feel I ought to either move up or move on."

Cowan says he wants to remain in the coaching field "if I can find the right offer," and said he preferred to stay in the West Central Texas area.

CHILDREN HAZARDOUS.

Children outrank sharp knives and hot burners as a hazard in the kitchen, the National Safety Council says.
